HOUSE THIS MORNING PASSES THREE IMPORTANT PIECES OF LEGISLATION

Santa Fe, N. M., May 22.—The house this morning passed only three bills, all of which were debated hotly but were finally put through by the house machine. They were a bill by Hilton, to prohibit moving pictures of an immoral character; another bill reenacting the present law for the appointment of boards of education with minor changes; and a bill to create the county of Coronado.

The house yesterday forced Mr. Burg to recommit his bill for county surveys but this morning he received favorable reports on his other bills including the establishment of a state fair at Albuquerque and chairs of orthology at the state university and the college of agriculture. Mr. Hilton this morning introduced a resolution to bar from the floor all lobbyists, declaring that the house members were too busy to be interfered with.

The senate this afternoon will take up the knotty problem of county salaries, considering the senate substitute for the Hinkle bill. This measure is being opposed by a large number of the county officials who declare their salaries are too small. Mr. Holt will introduce bills providing for state and county bond issues for good roads, carrying out the platform pledge of the the republican party. He will introduce bills for the government of public highways and a direct automobile tax. These are exceptionally important measures.

'AUNT JANE' TO BE HERE TOMORROW NIGHT

SHE WILL APPEAR, REAL AND BOGUS, AT THE HIGH SCHOOL ANNUAL PLAY

"Aunt Jane at Bexley," which will be presented by the senior class of the Las Vegas High school tomorrow night at the Duncan opera house, undoubtedly will be one of the most amusing and best staged attractions ever produced by local students. There is something doing every minute in the play, which is a college farce in three acts and the students of High school handle their parts well. A dress rehearsal occurred last night, and, with another night to polish off the few rough places, everything will be in readiness for the performance.

The scene of the play, the plot of which is light but extremely amusing, is laid at Bexley College. Jimmie Cavendish, one of the college sports, is greatly in danger of flunking out and to make matters worse he goes on a tear and on the following morning is called up for an explanation for being out late. Jimmie says that he was out with his Aunt Jane and, to carry out the bluff, asks one of his friends, Tad Cheseldine, to masquerade as this personage. Tad refuses and Jim asks "Shorty" Long, who consents. Tad later reconsiders and "makes up" as Aunt Jane. One of the girls, Marjorie Haviland, the college widow, also masques as Aunt Jane without the knowledge of poor Jimmie, and the first thing he knows there are three Aunt Janes on the scene. The second act of the play is a round of amusing incidents arising from the above conditions. The real Aunt Jane appears on the scene later, and though she takes the part of her nephew, only adds complications to the matter. The bogus Aunt Jane gives themselves away by rooting at a football game and the plot is Charles Doherty is seen in the role of Jimmie Cavendish, and Thomas Truder and Ed Meloney play the part of Tad Cheseldine and "Shorty" Long, two of the masquerading Aunt Janes. Miss Alice Coors portrays the part of Marjorie Haviland, the third Aunt Jane. The part of the real Aunt Jane will be played by Miss Phebe Hart. The scene of the first act is laid in the college boarding house. The second scene is at a faculty dinner party, and the final scene at a football game.

JACK CURLEY WEDS A PRETTY DENVER GIRL

MISS MARIE DRESCHER GIVES HER HAND AND HEART TO BIG PROMOTER

Miss Marie Drescher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Drescher of Denver, this morning became the bride of Jack Curley, promoter of the Johnson-Flynn bout to be staged here on July 4. The wedding ceremony occurred in the parlors of the Castaneda hotel at 11:30 o'clock. Judge D. R. Murray officiating. The wedding was attended by all of the members of the Flynn training camp, Curley's many local associates in the promoting game and a number of Las Vegas' most prominent business men. Following the wedding ceremony, dinner was served in the dining room of the hotel.

The Curley-Drescher wedding was the culmination of a courtship of less than three weeks, the big promoter having met the dainty little society girl while in Denver with Flynn en route from Chicago to Las Vegas. It was a case of love at first sight and during his visit in the Colorado city they were together from morning to night, explaining around the city in Miss Drescher's big touring car. Mr. Curley was introduced to his bride by Jack Kelly of St. Louis, the Drescher's home before going to Denver.

Mr. Curley, accompanied by Flynn left Denver for Pueblo where he was followed by the now Mrs. Curley, who attended the Curley-Flynn exhibition at the opera house in "the white hope's" home town. Today's bride accompanied by her parents, arrived in Las Vegas Sunday afternoon and though at first it was denied that they were to be married soon, it was easy to see that the two sweethearts were planning a wedding at an early date.

Mrs. Curley, according to the marriage license, issued by the county clerk, was born in Jerseyville, N. Y. and is 20 years of age. Jack Curley was born in San Francisco, being 36 years old. The bride gave New York City as her residence, her father being associated in business there. Mr. Curley calls his home North Yakima, Wash. Mrs. Curley received her education in Visitation convent in St. Louis. Mr. and Mrs. Drescher and daughter have been residents of Denver for several years being prominent in the society set of that city. Mr. Drescher is a millionaire broker having business interests in Denver and New York City.

Mrs. Curley had not made her debut in society, and her parents had planned to take her on a trip through Europe before her formal introduction into society. But "Don Juan" Curley appeared on the scene and the well laid plans of Mr. and Mrs. Drescher were of naught. Mrs. Curley was popular with the younger society set of Denver being a vivacious and talented young lady. She is an excellent musician and also is known to be an expert automobile driver.

Mr. Curley is prominent in sporting circles of the country, being known as one of the best promoters in the game. He first came into prominence touring with the Jeffries-Gotch combination the winter before Jeffries met Johnson at Reno. He was the man behind the Gotch-Hackenschmidt bout and now has picked Jimmie Flynn as the "white hope" in a match with the "big smoke." Curley came into this world under the name of Armand Schul, Jack Curley being a title he used first as a professional name. However, he became attached to the "handle" and recently applied to the Chicago court to give him legal right to it. This right has been granted since Curley's arrival in Las Vegas.

The bride was dressed in a walking suit, wearing a light blue tailored coat and a white hat. Mrs. Drescher was dressed in a modish blue tailored suit and wore a big black hat. White carnations, sweet peas and smilax formed the decorations of the wedding dinner table. Plates were set for 30. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Art Greiner, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Drescher, H. W. Lanigan, press correspondent of the Flynn-Johnson bout; Jim Flynn, Al Williams, Flynn's sparring partner; Louis Flynn, Chick Coleman, A. W. Balke, Will Rice, Roy Marshall, Tex Geibhart, ex-Governor William J. Mills, D. T. Hoskins, Herman C. H. field, Arthur H. field, Mayor Robert J. Taupert, Charles O'Malley, local promoter of the coming exhibition; E. G. Murphy, Ike Bacharach, Simon Bacharach, William Springer, E. T. Plowman, Dave Anselberg and Judge D. R. Murray.

Mr. and Mrs. Curley left this afternoon for Albuquerque on train No. 1, where tomorrow night Jimmie Flynn, who accompanied them, will put on an exhibition bout at the national convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Fireman. Mrs. Drescher accompanied the bride and groom, and Al Williams was also a member of the party. The newlyweds will return to Las Vegas Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Curley expect to go on a trip to the Pacific coast, leaving here about June 1.

BURNS TO RE-ENTER RING

Edmonton, Alta., May 22.—Tommy Burns will don his fighting togs here tomorrow night and engage in the first ring battle he has had since he lost the championship to Jack Johnson at Sydney, Australia, more than three years ago. His opponent will be Jack Connell. The Edmonton Athletic club has signed the two for a ten-round fight. Burns has been quietly training for some time with the intention, it is said, of going after Sam Langford and some of the other big ones if his bout with Connell indicates that he is able to regain his old-time form. Connell, like Burns, is a Canadian product, though he has done most of his fighting outside the country. Those who have watched him train think well of his abilities and make a prediction that he will be able to stay the ten rounds with the former champion.

CHOOSER BULLETS IN PLACE OF A ROPE

CONVICTED MURDERER IS SHOT TO DEATH IN UTAH PENITENTIARY

Salt Lake City, Utah, May 22.—Five riflemen concealed behind a black curtain sent steel bullets into the heart of a blindfolded man as he sat in a wooden chair at the state prison this morning. Julius Sirmay, a murderer, was the target. He had selected death by shooting in preference to the gallows after his conviction of the murder of Thomas Karkick, a 14-year-old school boy, whom he had shot and fatally wounded in the course of a daylight burglary.

Until a few hours before the execution Sirmay maintained that a fellow burglar was with him in the Karkick home and had killed the lad. Last night he confessed it was he who shot the boy. Sirmay was a Hungarian, 34 years old. He was blindfolded before he left his cell on his way to be shot.
